

February 13, 2018

Update Report
TAG – The Action Group on Access to Justice

Evaluation

Last fall TAG engaged a team of evaluators to determine its effectiveness as an access to justice facilitator and to guide the development of a strategic plan. An evaluation design was confirmed following a facilitated session with stakeholders in January. Currently, evaluators are in the data collection stage which entails key informant interviews and document review. A final report that analyzes this data and presents recommendations for TAG's next phase will be completed in the spring.

Access to Justice Week 2018 Program

Help to plan this year's Access to Justice Week program by completing this short survey. Share your thoughts about event ideas, inspiring speakers and key themes.

Code Across Toronto 2018

TAG will be participating in Code Across Toronto on March 3. This hackathon event brings together coders, designers, policymakers, government staff, students, and creative minds who share an interest in technology being used to advance social good. TAG has facilitated the involvement of the Ministry of the Attorney General's Innovation Office who will be presenting a challenge to the group about data that enhances navigation of the justice system.